

Garth Castle, Scotland

Rising over 60' high with stone walls up to 14' deep and a stairwell built into the walls, Garth Castle is truly a livable and manageable fortalice ideally located near Aberfeldy. Nearby are standing stones, heritage sites, golfing, outdoor sports and exciting Highland Games and Medieval events.

Garth Castle, Scotland

Info@GarthCastleScotland.com

www.GarthCastleScotland.com

www.GarthCastleScotland.com

Stunning Ancient Castle & Property
Pre-listed at
US. $3,089,000.

History

For the first time in decades, one of Europe's oldest and most historic castles is for sale.

Nestled in the foothills of Scotland's Highlands stands one of the Europe's most ancient castles, once a ruin and now comfortably appointed.

Surrounded with the privacy of grazing farmlands and hillocks of heath, Garth Castle rises as a singular monument to its intriguing and sometimes forbidding past.

Its natural environs of towering trees, rare ferns, and fields of heather are clearly an inviting reminder to step into the life of earlier centuries.

Rarely does an historic structure of such antiquity come onto the private market.

Secluded but not isolated, Garth Castle offers privacy in a centrally-located landscape.

- ❖ Comfortable and Private Family or Corporate Retreat with nearby sports
- ❖ Perfect Medieval Movie or Reality Setting
- ❖ Built in 1384 by the son of the King of Scotland, known as the Wolf of Badenoch on ancient castle lands dating to 1100 AD.

For more details and photos, please visit www.GarthCastleScotland.com
Or Email us at Info@GarthCastleScotland.com